Generation of Participation in Democracy

This page contains founding documents for the formation of a California Public Benefit corporation and Internal Revenue Service tax exemption under section 501(c)(3): the Generation of Participation in Democracy.

We are a California Public Benefit corporation in good standing. Our application for 501(c)(3) tax exemption has been submitted for review by the IRS.

To apply for the 501(c)(3) exemption there must be a board with a president, secretary, and treasurer. For now, Matthew A. Turner, PhD is the sole board member filling all three roles. This is temporary.

Dr. Turner will serve as President of the GPD for the foreseeable future. Dr. Turner is currently interviewing candidates to fill the roles of Secretary and Treasurer.

The documents below establish sole directorship, bylaws, and a conflict of interest policy.

Conflict of Interest Policy

CONFLICT OF INTEREST POLICY OF THE GENERATION OF PARTICIPATION IN DEMOCRACY

Article I — Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to protect the interests of the corporation when considering transactions or arrangements that may benefit the private interests of a director, officer, or key person.

Article II — Duty to Disclose

Interested persons shall disclose any actual or potential conflicts of interest.

Article III — Procedures

The Board shall determine whether a conflict exists and whether any proposed arrangement is fair, reasonable, and in the best interests of the corporation.

Article IV — Records

The minutes of the corporation shall document disclosures, determinations, and approvals related to conflicts of interest.

Article V — Compensation

Compensation arrangements shall be reviewed and approved using reasonable and transparent procedures.

Article VI — Affiliated Entities and Transparency

The corporation may collaborate with or receive operational support from affiliated entities, including Subtlety Solutions (STS). STS is an LLC owned by director, president, treasurer, and secretary Matthew Turner.

The corporation recognizes that overlapping leadership, infrastructure, technical services, or financial relationships may create actual or perceived conflicts of interest.

Such relationships are permitted only when fully disclosed, documented, and determined to be fair, reasonable, and in the best interests of the corporation.

The corporation therefore maintains a robust transparency and disclosure framework, including documented approvals, public-facing financial reporting where appropriate, and formal conflict review procedures intended to preserve the corporation's charitable mission and public trust.
